

World Pauses; Pays Tribute to John F. Kennedy

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—A cluster of white roses and jasmine lay among hundreds of other floral offerings on a grave in Arlington national cemetery. A former President and Mrs. Johnson, both dressed in black, attended a special memorial service in Austin, Tex. Air-force planes flew over Cape Cod in the missing "widow formation"—one position vacant. In those and many other ways a thoughtful nation paused yesterday to remember, and pay tribute, on the first anniversary of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

The tragedy that had reached around the world was reflected around the world in solemn ceremonies. As hundreds of thousands paid aside part of their day for their private ways of remembering.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy sent a small spray of wildflowers to her grave. They were delivered by her mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss.

The President's widow remained silent. Tribute, Pg. 2, Col. 5

Johnson States He Heard Shots

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UPI)—President Johnson told the Warren commission he heard the shots that killed President John F. Kennedy in Dallas—but before he could even speculate on their nature he was knocked down in his seat by a secret service agent.

"Almost in the same instant in which he hit me, pushed me, I vaulted over the back seat and sat on me," Johnson said in testimony for the commission investigating the assassination.

Johnson rode in an open convertible "about three car lengths" behind the car in which Kennedy was shot, along with Texas Gov. John Connally.

Johnson said those in his car did not immediately know what had happened ahead. When his car arrived at Parkland hospital he said he was told to hurry inside where he was "routed into a room with drawn shades and told the news."

When White House aide E. O'Donnell advised him at 1:30 p.m. that Kennedy was dead, Johnson told the commission, "I thought it hard to believe that this had happened." The whole thing seemed unreal, he believed.

Johnson said he rejected advice from secret service agents and others to board the presidential airplane and return at once to Washington. He said he insisted that the plane wait for Mrs. Kennedy, and for the late President's body.

"Mrs. Kennedy, in testimony being read today by the Warren commission, said she believed for some time that had she been looking to the right instead of to the left she could have saved her husband from the assassin bullet—the first bullet that she had believed.

She had believed, however, that later revelations about the sequence of bullet may have changed her mind on that point.

Mrs. Kennedy was questioned at her home on June 8 by Warren commission Chairman J. Lee Rankin. Also present was Chief Justice Earl Warren and Robert P. Kennedy, brother of the late President.

Assassination Attempt on Castro Fails

MIAAMI, Nov. 23 (UPI)—A spectacular aerial assassination attempt on the life of Fidel Castro as he steered back by anti-aircraft fire in Havana over the weekend, a Cuban exile group said today.

The alleged attempt was made midnight, when a B-26 bomber dropped from an undisclosed location in the Caribbean to eliminate Castro as he spoke at a baseball stadium.

Reds Deadlocked in Dispute

LONDON, Nov. 23 (UPI)—A week after talks in the Kremlin left the Soviet Union and Communist China completely deadlocked in their ideological dispute, although they did agree to try for improved state relations, sources reported to journalists.

The sources, reporting on the basis of what they had learned on the trip, said both sides want to stop the public anti-callings that embittered relations before the ouster of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

But neither Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev nor Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai committed himself outright to ending the public aspects of the dispute, the sources said.

The five days of conferences brought only a small step toward easing the Sino-Soviet dispute. This was the agreement to continue peace talks in Peking in the new year.

But at the same time, both sides recognized that there were no prospects in sight for any meaningful settlement of differences.

The reason for the continued split is that both Moscow and Peking stand by their policies toward the West.

Nowhere believes that the nuclear arms race out war as the means of spreading communism. Its answer is peaceful coexistence until what it believes will be the eventual triumph of communism through economic victory.

Peking brands this capitulation and says the communist world must be willing to risk war with the West and must remain militarily ready to spread revolution throughout the world. It considers U.S. nuclear might a "paper tiger."

Despite these deep differences, the sources said both parties to the talks were under strong pressures from satellite leaders to try

NATIONAL

WHIRLIGIG

BY HENRY JULY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—They are not reassured by the adjective "nonviolent" which Negro leaders have attached to the civil rights demonstrations they plan in three Southern states in January. Any project involving Negroes and whites, is up to here in dynamite.

As explained by Andrew Young, program director of the Southern Christian Leadership conference, authorities in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama have failed to force compliance with the public accommodations section of the civil rights act. Therefore, the Negroes will take to the streets and demand their rights with one loud voice.

DANGEROUS MUSCLE FLEXING — This is gambling with the public safety, and Young and his colleagues all sincere and decent people should know it. In any demonstration, the threat of violence is taken by the demonstrators, they say, in effect, that they will be unable to pay off what they want. They are displaying their numerical strength and flexing their muscles in public in an act of intimidation which is both legal and proper, but unfortunately dangerous.

In the South especially, such demonstrations are adventures in brinkmanship. Right and wrong are lost sight of in a neighborhood suddenly called upon to change its way of life to accommodate citizens it has always regarded as second-class. To the segregationist, especially the shiftless, shoeless type, the Negro seeking his rights is presumptuous and must be put in his place.

LOOTERS TWICE OVER — The riots that started—American cities—earlier this year were not set off by police but by "nonviolent" demonstrators. These demonstrators developed into robbing batters because hoodlums and looters on both sides took them over as a means of achieving their own violent ends. But if the blame was shared by both whites and Negroes, the fact remains that had there been no demonstrations there would have been no riots.

It is understandable difficult for Negro leaders to accept this rationale. After all, the Negroes are the ones who are tired of waiting, tired of placing their dependence on the promise of white politicians, tired of being "responsible" toward Southern white cops who rule by whip and bludgeon.

WHY NOT TRY COURTS? — But this time, it seems to me, Negro leaders are overlooking a new weapon handed them by congress last summer. It is the courts. The civil rights act is not merely a politician's prattle, it is the law of the land, proclaiming that the Negro has certain legal rights and is subordinate to local authorities to insure and protect those rights.

To be sure, the Negro still is faced with all-white juries, all-white judges who do not like their segregationist ways. Justice can be delayed, but it no longer can be withheld, willy nilly. And though it takes time for a civil rights case to make its way through justice's legal maze, in the end its cause is better served than by that rock hurled into a white man's store.

RELEASE WITHOUT BAIL
The theory that persons charged with crime can only be brought up to trial in court for trial without being held to the limit of bail and expense of furnishing a bail bond has been subjected to careful, pragmatic test in the District of Columbia. The district court, in its first year, has now concluded a year of operation under its plan. The test indicates that defendants selected on the basis of their character and their community ties tend to be good risks—better risks, perhaps, than the general run of those who have been bonded.

From Jan. 20 of this year to the end of September, 130 felony suspects were released on bail on the recommendation of the prison staff. They were held for an average of 30 days. Only three failed to appear; and all of these were subsequently found in the district. Of 74 misdemeanor suspects released without bail, only two failed to appear on schedule.

Release of accused persons on their own recognizance makes an important contribution to the administration of justice. It helps to avoid punishment before trial. In this connection, it should be noted that 42 per cent of the felony suspects selected under project supervision obtained acquittals or dismissals. Had they been jailed for want of bail, to raise the question would have been immediately imminent, if not pressing.

The great virtue of release without bail is that it promotes the ideal of equal justice. When release pending trial depends on the whim of a bail bondman and the ability of a suspect to pay the bondman's heavy fee, the poor and the obscure suffer serious disadvantage. Release without bail, on the other hand, is indiscriminate. The district court project has however pointed the way to the feasibility of a selective release program. We think, therefore, that the project, started last October under a grant from the Ford Foundation, and run by the judicial conference committee on bail problems, has rendered most useful service to the law and to the community generally.—Washington Post.

GOVERNOR SMYLLIE'S LONG-OVERDUE

Every year for the past 13 years, Washington's Sen. Warren G. Magnuson has introduced a bill in congress that would allow the interstate commerce commission to make it more expensive for eastern railroads to rent boxcars to the west. It's high time for the bill to be passed. With weary repetition, the West continually suffers a boxcar shortage because eastern roads simply lose western cars that leave here loaded with western plywood and other products. Under present rules, it's cheaper for those eastern railroads to simply use boxcars that generally cost less than $450. You can't rent an automobile for that.

The western railroads get an undeserved black eye because they can't get their own cars back to serve the needs of our expanding industry. But the western roads are powerless to do anything about it. For its part, ICC has precious little power to force the issue.

Senator Magnuson's bill, not surprisingly, has met with little favor from western congressmen. The shortage has reached crisis proportions for our lumber and plywood mills. Only government action, it appears, offers much prospect of long-range relief.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

In Switzerland migration swallows this year are reported using the new Great St. Bernard road tunnel to save themselves the flight over the 8,000-foot pass. Ornithologists are skeptical but travelers have seen the birds.

This may not prove that the new tunnel is for the birds entirely. But it certainly indicates that the description of a person as a "birdbrain" should not carry the connotation of scorn.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

In "private briefings" and other ways, the state department is systematically pumping out the idea that the Sino-Soviet rapprochement signaled by Khrushchev's dismantling of the Berlin Wall is taking mighty, mighty good of the Soviet Union—and themselves—and the commando part in it. Of that we can be sure now, and never has been, any atomic, civil-defense program whatever in the U.S.S.R.

The Russians, however, are chess players while we pride ourselves on being poker players—and this is how we lose very time.

The Soviet H-bomb strength is militarily self-defeating to the aggressor because to employ it means to lose. Mother Russia is the ruler of radioactive rubble, but the Kremlin has been clever enough to turn this uselessness into enormous usefulness in the cold war.

A cold war is a conflict in which diplomatic initiative and psychological forces predominate. A hot war is a struggle in which physical forces predominate. The Sino-Soviet nuclear defeat is the ruling of radioactive rubble, but the Kremlin has been clever enough to turn this uselessness into enormous usefulness in the cold war.

But where is the brainpower and initiative in our policy so obviously needed to meet this development?

Behind the scenes in the state department itself, it is widely said that the officials at the top have become so used to reacting that they have forgotten how to act. From Secretary Dean Rusk on down, and in the White House as well, the Initiative shown is electrifyingly limp.

There are so many people putting off decisions that the only thing left to do is the wrong thing.

The result, Everywhere we are saying, "What are we in danger of losing?" not, "What are we gaining?"

There are various causes for this paralysis, but we cannot just sit better until our officials abandon their underlying alibi, which is: "Howard" DeBarge, or the Kremlin will blow up the U.S.A. and the world. Only common sense is needed—and a little clearheaded forthrightness by the department of state.

Washington News

By ETHEL WILSON

The and, bad news for Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey is that there is another Kennedy in the future. That is to say, he is another "John F. Kennedy," to be exact. From Secretary Dean Rusk on down, and in the White House as well, the Initiative shown is electrifyingly limp. There are so many people putting off decisions that the only thing left to do is the wrong thing.

The result, Everywhere we are saying, "What are we in danger of losing?" not, "What are we gaining?"

There are various causes for this paralysis, but we cannot just sit better until our officials abandon their underlying alibi, which is: "Howard" DeBarge, or the Kremlin will blow up the U.S.A. and the world.

It would be one thing if national courage were to be born above this Soviet hubris. But does it take national courage to realize above a witch? In a cynical kick, riding on her broom. Only common sense is needed—and a little clearheaded forthrightness by the department of state.

With a couple of borrowed lines, "Come, my friend, it's not too late to build a better world."

It is not necessary to be aware of the ambition and spirit of Kennedy to read both the record of his administration and the record of the U.S. Senate. It is to much to believe that even if Kennedy would buck Lyndon Johnson for the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination. He wouldn't dare. But Kennedy could be expected to buck Humphrey in 1972.

Lyndon Johnson would be like that, LBJ is an imperious man. The word means commanding, lordly, arrogant, domineering and stiff. It is to much to believe that even if Kennedy would buck Humphrey in 1972.

Johnson already has appointed Humphrey as his proposed successor. So he told the Democratic national convention in August—that he intended to run again in 1972 as his vice presidential running mate.

He did not campaign for Humphrey, as best fitted for the presidency if something happened to Johnson. LBJ was thinking of the succession if he died in office. But the realities are not blurred. If it is assumed that Johnson regards Humphrey as his successor under all circumstances, Johnson is eligible under the Constitution's no - third term amendment to be re-elected in 1968. Humphrey's chance would come in 1972 when he would be 61 years old and Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and his wife Ethel would be in their 40s.

He did not campaign for Humphrey, as best fitted for the super-charged outlook to obtain the vice presidential nomination for Robert Kennedy.

When the time came, LBJ thought Kennedy out of the contest as casually as he would squash fly. And that didn't make LBJ happy. To do so, he wanted to be a champion for any political struggle that might happen to him, Johnson's military forces and the Kennedy clan. Humphrey's chances must be that history does not repeat. The man from Minnesota in 1960 had assembled the whole left wing of the Democratic party behind his ambition to be nominated for president. Big labor was behind him, and the middle class.

Three Scouts Reported Lost In Montana

BUTTE, Nov. 23 (UPI) — A sheriff's posse on horseback and a number of four-wheel-drive vehicles combed the rugged Lake Pend Oreille area of here today for three Butte Boy Scouts missing after a long backpacking trip.

A mild snow storm reduced visibility in the morning as the search hunt continued for the missing scouts.

Richard Denney, 12; Don Bear,

11, and Roger Herrera, 12,

the youths were due in Butte at 8 p.m. yesterday and were last seen seven and one-half hours earlier when taken to the Lake Pend Oreille region nine miles from Butte just over the Continental Divide.

The boys were participating in Scout advancement exercises.

During the night about 50 volunteers from the Butte area searched for the missing trio in an 800 to 600 square-mile area.

Included in the party were an explorer Scout search and rescue unit using walkie-talkies, a mobile Red Cross unit and 20 citizens' band radio units.

The missing scouts were warmly dressed. Temperatures during the night were relatively mild as the minimum at Butte was 26.

Youngsters Overcome
By Coal Gas

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23 (UPI) — A number of children were overcome today as coal gas seeped through a three-story public school in the northern section of the city.

An undetermined number of children were admitted to area hospitals but fire commissioners George E. Link said "none appeared in serious condition."

Link said that all of the children had been removed from the Jefferson public school building and that "everything is under control."

The children evacuated from the elementary school building were led to the auditorium of a nearby Roman Catholic church and "tearful reunions with worried mothers who rushed to the scene."

The nearby Episcopal hospital reported it had more than 40 children in the accident ward waiting to be treated while other hospitals were unable to estimate immediately how many victims they had received.

Firemen at the scene administered oxygen to other children and walked through the aisles of the auditorium checking the pupils.

The school district said there were about 400 children in the 73-year-old building.

First reports indicated the conflagration was caused by a defective damper in the furnace.

A TEARFUL FARTING occurred yesterday when Sue Hutchinson, 15, saw her pet goat, Friszi, loaded aboard a truck at San Dimas, Calif., bound for Mexico. Friszi will become a household milk goat for a poor family. The shipment was part of a project which places barnyard animals with volunteer groups to raise, then ships them, when grown, to foreign areas where the animals are needed. Friszi was accompanied by several other goats. (AP Wirephoto)

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Stocks

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 Un. — The stock market closed lower today since airlines were weak. Two-half more than a point on the Dow Jones Industrial Average was lost. All 19 of the 30 stocks had declined at the close. Other airlines declined. The market was mixed at the close and was lower by mid-session.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.4 million shares, compared with 6.6 million Friday. The British increase in interest rates to seven per cent from four per cent aroused fears that the interest rate also would rise.

Losses of a point or so were suffered by some key issues but there was a rounding of good gains in the market.

General Electric was the most active and was nearly 2 points up on an announcement of plans to merge with Litton Industries. Bell issues were active and ahead with Federated Department Stores up 2 points and American Penney up more than 1 point.

Union Carbide advanced nearly 3 points while DuPont lost in the same range.

Rails were weak with Southwestern Railway and Baltimore and Ohio losing more than a point.

Prices were higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

U.S. government bonds sagged

in reaction to news of the boost in the British bank rate.

Corporate bonds declined similarly.

Trading was moderate and mostly in the hands of professionals.

Eight States Alerted for 7 Escapees

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 22 (UPI) — Law enforcement agencies throughout the West today spread a "drag net" across the state parades, some of them murderers, who burrowed under the walls of the Washington state penitentiary last night.

Warden Bob Rhay said the men were missing at the evening check. A short time later a 40-foot tunnel was found leading to just outside the 12-foot-high prison walls.

The Washington state patrol immediately threw up roadblocks in the area around this southeastern Washington community of about 2,000.

Law enforcement agencies in Oregon, Idaho, Montana, California, Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico were alerted.

Rhay had the tunnel began in a cell in the "close security" area of the prison.

The convicts apparently escaped during the regular recreation period following dinner, when visitors are allowed out of their cells, Rhay said.

"They were gone at the regular 9:30 p.m. count."

The tunnel was just big enough for the men to crawl through, Rhay said.

He identified the escapees as Arthur B. Peter, 38; Verlin Eugene Barrell, 36; Richard Muller, 33; Donald Maseko, 33; Harold Thomas, 36, and Neil C. Wallen, 28.

Thomas, Wallen and Maseko were serving terms for murder.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, Nov. 23—Born today, you have a wonderful sense of humor and display it all around the office. You're a veritable nature. Reliability is your main point, the one which will bring you the most friends, the best chances for success and the deepest regard of all who know you. If there is a choice between something which you yourself wish to do and something which you have promised another to do, you will stand by your promise without fail.

You are an ability quite rare and, at the same time, quite essential to one who would get along well with every sort of person you are able to read between the lines of what is said or written. This enables you to catch subtleties of expression which even the speaker himself may have escaped him and to know how to act accordingly.

A deep sense of duty along with great powers of self-control makes almost all of your activities what is required of you.

What is required of you is what you will do regardless of the hardships. Even so, what is hardship to another is often no hardship to you; you have as been mentioned before that great sense of sympathy for others both the poor and the burdened.

Another those born on this date are Franklin Pierce, 14th President of the U.S.; Boris Karloff, actor; Samuel Locke, educator.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday be your daily guide.

Festive Foods

ALL THE FIXIN'S

Thanksgiving is a happy time when families gather to relax and enjoy festive meals. But more important than this it is a time when we should "give thanks." Thanks for the freedom that we enjoy every day of our lives. Freedom founded by the Pilgrims and preserved by the courageous dedication of our forefathers. It is the freedom which has brought our nation strength and offers to all of those who strive for it, the good things of life in overwhelming abundance. Yes... let us take time to give thanks on this Thanksgiving day!

Contests Are Announced b Area Grange

GOODING, Nov. 23 — Mrs. K. Miller, home economics chairman for the Gooding Grange, announced various needlework and sewing contests within the Grange, at its regular meeting Friday night at the Grange hall.

Mrs. K. Miller, stated there are crocheting, knitting and embroidery contests, as well as sewing. Further details can be obtained from Mrs. Miller. Several of the contests are open to other than Grange members but the contestants must be sponsored by a Grange member.

Sewing contest entries are to be made of cotton material, with dresses for various age groups, and also small boys' suits. There is a new contest of homemade candy and a loaf of white bread.

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, who did not attend the meeting, gave a report. She stated that four of Jack Madden's pictures were entered in the state contests in four different classes.

Three were awarded blue ribbons and sent to national Grange for further judging. The fourth picture received a red ribbon.

A photograph of Stanley brain entered by V. B. Vungerman won first in his class and was also sent to national.

Fred Miller reported on the Grange fire insurance meeting which preceded the state Grange meeting. He stated there was a large attendance at the meeting. He said that fewer policies were in force due to the consolidation of farms, but with a substantial gain in the amount of insurance.

Ira Miller, lecturer, gave a description of the new "bridge" stamp which was released for sale Nov. 22 showing the new bridge across New York harbor. Mrs. Susan Baugh introduced her portion of the program. William Krahn sang "The Whole World in His Hands" and "Harbor Lights" with Carol Ann Krahn as accompanist. Mrs. Krahn also sang.

Traffic Jam

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (UPI) — The spanking-new Verrazano-Narrows bridge spanning the entrance to New York harbor climaxed the first 34 hours of its life with a monumental traffic jam.

Police reported that so many sight-seers had flocked to the structure yesterday they caused a four-hour traffic jam, with cars backed up for miles on both approaches.

Traffic officials said about 100,000 cars had crossed the span in the first 24 hours. It is the world's longest single-span suspension bridge and connects "Manhattan's" first structural link with the rest of New York City. It connects Staten Island with Brooklyn.

Each month and entertainment during the meal, with cards later. The polka suppers are scheduled for 7 p.m., the second regular meeting each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller served refreshments.

NEW OCCUPATIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UPI) — Rep. John M. Towsley, D-Ill., believes there is a need for two new occupations in medicine — "medical cryptologists" and "medicines."

He was reported on the Grange fire insurance meeting which preceded the state Grange meeting. He stated there was a large attendance at the meeting. He said that fewer policies were in force due to the consolidation of farms, but with a substantial gain in the amount of insurance.

Negro Girl's Body Found, Death Probed

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 23 (UPI) — Local authorities and the FBI combined efforts today to determine what happened to young Gladys Johnson, between the time she was kidnapped and killed.

Shawnee county Coroner J. W. Latimore said an autopsy on the body of the 9-year-old Negro girl had not yet been completed, but he had been raped. A white man had been charged with kidnapping her.

Latimore said he was awaiting the results of additional tests being taken by the federal bureau of investigation in Washington. Specimens from her body were sent to the FBI laboratory, he said. A few more tests also were to be made in Topeka.

An autopsy conducted yesterday showed Gladys suffered both a broken neck and a skull fracture. Latimore said she was struck all over the head and back of the neck by a blunt instrument, such as a hatchet, hammer or large rock. Either blow could have killed her, he said.

The 9-year-old girl was pulled into a car in Topeka by a white man on Nov. 14. A week later her frozen, bludgeoned body was found in a field near St. Mary's, Kansas, by quail hunters. She apparently had been killed elsewhere and her lifeless body taken to the field, Latimore said.

William Frederick Glanzer, an attorney in Topeka, Kansas, has been charged with first-degree kidnaping. Authorities in Shawnee and Pottawatomie counties, where the girl was found, said they want to try to determine where the girl was killed before filing murder charges.

WARM LETTERS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater has received about 80,000 letters from "warm supporters" since his defeat in the presidential election Nov. 3, according to the Republican national committee.

NAMED TO POST

WENDELL, Nov. 22 — Jerry F. Renfrow, Wendell, who has served as Crooked County commissioner for the past 26 years, and was reelected last November, has been named chairman of the board of commissioners. He fills the vacancy created by the death of Emerson Pugmire, Hagerman.
